Who would have thought that an ice cream would make all neighbours mad!

Peter and his son were playing at the park one day. When his son saw the ice cream cart, he wanted to eat the ice cream. However, his hand slipped. The ice cream made the kid slipped. The kid slipped and couldn't hold his robot. Paul tripped over the robot and lost his balance. Paul lost his balance and crashed his new bike. Everyone gets angry with the father and son.

Luckily there is HSBC ResidenceSurance with personal liability coverage up to HK$20 million.
