

Applicable to mortgage loans for owner-occupied properties with provisional agreements for sale and purchase executed before 7 July 2023.

High Advance Mortgage

Why consider/Why not consider

Consider it if...

- ✓ you wish to borrow up to 90%¹ of property value to ease the downpayment burden and allow cash flow for the other purposes, for example, home renovation
- ✓ you are willing to pay premium to enjoy benefits of lower downpayment from the Mortgage Insurance Programme offered by HKMC Insurance Limited of which HSBC is the insured party
- ✓ you own a property for self occupancy

Not consider it if...

- ✗ your property price is above the maximum property value as set out by HKMC Insurance Limited
- ✗ you will apply for the mortgage using a shell company name

Highlights for your best interest

- ◆ 30-day Service Pledge: If you need to fully prepay the HighAdvance Mortgage with our bank within 30 days from the date of drawdown, we will waive the related banking fees, if any. For any early prepayment made after the service pledge period, we will charge the related banking fees
- ◆ Potential risk will be increased if you choose to borrow at a Loan-to-value ratio up to 90%¹. Your property may become negative equity in event of trough in property price trend. The Mortgage Insurance will be terminated after repaying the mortgage loan down to 60% Loan-to-Value ratio (based on the property valuation at the time of drawdown) or such other the ratio as per the terms of the Mortgage Insurance, and until termination you need to continue to pay the Mortgage Insurance premium. In the case of negative equity, you still have to continue to repay the mortgage loan. You may have to wait until the property value bounces back to a higher value before you can sell the property to repay the loan
- ◆ We will assess your application by making reference to credit report from a credit reference agency "TransUnion Limited", your income proof, other information submitted where applicable as well as the prevailing regulatory requirements in Hong Kong and the guideline of HKMC Insurance Limited
- ◆ To ensure your understanding on your obligation and commitment during the mortgage period, please carefully read all of the terms and conditions stated in the mortgage loan facility letter including but not limited to the mortgage interest rates, repayment amount, number of instalment, full/partial prepayment term and premium payment/refund
- ◆ Whenever you face financial difficulty in mortgage repayment, an overdue/default interest, on top of normal interest, will be levied. If your repayment cannot be resumed to normal, we reserve the right to repossess your property to settle the outstanding mortgage loan amount
- ◆ To protect your property from depreciation caused by structural damage resulting from disaster during the mortgage loan period, you are required to arrange fire insurance with an insurance company acceptable by us to provide insurance coverage to reduce the potential loss
- ◆ To minimise any unfortunate events affecting your home contents and your ability to repay the mortgage, you could contact us to understand more on related protection

Minimise your downpayment

Whether you're buying a property in the primary or secondary market, or cash-out by refinancing your existing one, HighAdvance Mortgage lets you borrow up to 90%¹ of your property's value with a loan tenor of up to 30 years. What's more, it helps to minimise your downpayment burden.

Different premium payment options to suit your needs

To enjoy the benefits offered by our HighAdvance Mortgage, you must join the Mortgage Insurance Programme offered by HKMC Insurance Limited. Please refer to the premium rate table² below. HSBC offers the following premium payment options to suit your needs:

- ◆ bundle premium – borrow the single premium as part of the mortgage loan
- ◆ upfront premium – pay the single premium upon loan drawdown
- ◆ annual premium – pay the premium annually upon loan drawdown
